WILLIAM P. COOKE,

Petitioner,

v.

"MICHELLE" and DIANE RUIZ,

Respondent.

ORDER
05-C-475-S

Petitioner requests leave to proceed in forma pauperis in the above entitled cases. Attached to his affidavits of indigency are proposed complaints.

Petitioner's allegations are not legible. None of his allegations support a claim for relief under federal law. 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Accordingly, petitioner's request to proceed in forma pauperis will be dismissed and denied without prejudice.

Petitioner is advised that in any future proceedings in this matter he must offer argument not cumulative of that already provided to undermine this Court's conclusion that his claim must be dismissed. See Newlin v. Helman, 123 F.3d 429, 433 (7th Cir. 1997).

Petitioner has filed fifty-one complaints in this Court complaints in the last four months. All but one of petitioner's complaints did not allege facts that support a claim for relief under federal law. Petitioner continues to file complaints in this Court naming the same private individuals who have offended him or naming non-suable entities after being advised that these complaints do not support federal law claims.

Accordingly, the Court finds that the four above entitled complaints are frivolous and could cause harassment or undue embarrassment to private individuals. Petitioner's continued filing of numerous frivolous complaints is a waste of judicial resources. The Court will no longer accept petitioner's filings.

Cooke v. Mendota Mental Health Institute, et al., 05-C-472
