

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WISCONSIN

---

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

GREGORY BLUM,

Defendant.

ORDER OF DETENTION
PENDING TRIAL

07-CR-27-S

---

At the November 7, 2006 arraignment the government moved pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §3142(f) to detain defendant Gregory Blum in this child pornography case. Because the government has charged defendant with violating 18 U.S.C. § 2251(a), there is a rebuttable presumption of detention. Defendant is not contesting detention at this time because he is being held by the state and he has not yet crafted a proposed release plan. Defendant has reserved his right to a full substantive hearing if his circumstances change. Based on the statutory presumption and the currently uncontested information in the pretrial service report, I find that defendant is a flight risk and a danger to the community.

It is ORDERED that the defendant is committed to the custody of the United States Marshals Service for confinement at a proximate jail separate from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with his attorney. On order of this court or on request of an attorney for the Government, the jail shall deliver the defendant to the Marshals Service for the purpose of an appearance in this case.
